

FORM LETTER A

I strongly support the FDIC's proposed rule to regulate asset management firms like BlackRock. As a concerned citizen, I believe it's essential to address the concentration of power in our financial system and promote transparency and accountability, something that is clearly lacking currently.

The current lack of oversight has allowed BlackRock to accumulate immense influence over our economy, often at the expense of workers, consumers, and small businesses. By removing exemptions and requiring more transparency, this rule will help prevent the misuse of power and promote a more level playing field for all Americans.

I urge the FDIC to move forward with this proposed rule and ensure that corporate giants like BlackRock are held accountable for their actions. It's time to put the interests of the people above those of the wealthy few.
